Eakins wins fourth term

Liberal incumbent John Eakins has been returned to his fourth term in the Legislature with a convincing victory in Thursday's provincial election.

Eakins picked up just over half the popular vote in the riding increasing his plurality by 1500 votes over the 1981 election.

Final totals show Eakins with 15,292 votes, Progressive Conservative, Murray Fearrey, in his first bid for office, with 11,570 votes, and New Democrat Art Field a distant third with 3,230 votes of the total 30,092 votes cast.

Two thirds of the eligible voters in the riding cast votes.

From the moment the results began pouring in to the Liberal campaign headquarters in Lindsay on Thursday evening it was obvious to the large crowd of jubilant Eakins supporters that their candidate had carried the day.

While most of the crowd watched the local results being marked on a large tally board, others kept track of the television coverage of the election.

The hall filled with cheers when one television network gave Eakins the riding less than fifteen minutes after the polls closed.

The party faithful had even more reason to celebrate when it became apparent that the Liberals were giving the Conservatives a run for the money across the province.

Sombre mood

In contrast, several blocks away, the mood of the Progressive Conservative campaign headquarters was subdued. The supporters of Murray Fearrey watched with dismay as poll by poll the results were put on the large scoreboard. Most of the polls indicated that the PC candidate had been outvoted by the incumbent. It was only in polling stations closest to his home base at Haliburton Village that Fearrey was able to manage substantial poll victories.

The Conservative's mood was further dampened by the results being reported on the television sets located in the hall. As they watched the television reporters tally the results, they realized that the loss they were experiencing in Victoria - Haliburton was wide spread and that this riding had reaffirmed a provincial trend which placed the PCs close to official opposition status.

As the Conservative candidate saw the election slipping away, he speculated that the issue that candidates could not discuss, the funding of separate high schools in the province, had been the unseen force which had humbled the Conser-hard for the opposition to compete for attention with the government. The election has given David Peterson an equal opportunity for the people to see him. I look forward to serving with my leader."

At one point during the evening the Liberals pulled ahead of the Conservatives in the province, prompting Eakins to comment, "Maybe it is my turn to move across the floor. Leslie Frost waited six years. I have waited nine and a half."

At 9:15 p.m. the Conservative supporters listened intently as Murray Fearrey expressed his appreciation for their hard work and loyal support. He said they had fought a good fight and deserved to be proud of their effort.

He told the subdued

Liberal incumbent John Eakins, beams as his Conservative opponent congratulates him on his victory in the May 2 provincial election. Murray Fearrey visited the Liberal campaign headquarters shortly after 9:30 p.m. to concede victory to Eakins. The Liberals took Victoria-Haliburton with a majority of over 4,700 votes.

Education tax increase blamed on several factors

Ratepayers in Haliburton County face a significant increase in education taxes this year.

On Tuesday, April 30, the Haliburton County Board of Education approved the 1985 budget of $8,514,607. While this figure represents an increase of only 6.65% over last year's budget, the municipal levy of $5,306,256 shows an increase of 19.4% over 1984.

The Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden's share of the levy is $1,061,299, an increase of 19.8% from last year. (A chart on page 2 outlines each municipality's share of the 1985 education budget.)

Due to the sharp increase in the municipal levy, the Chairman of the board, Paul Wilson, requested that letters be sent to all municipalities in the county outlining the reasons why the municipalities' share has increased more than the percentage increase in the expenditures.

Stan Baker, the Business Administrator and Treasurer of the board, provided The Times with a copy of the letter and added some further comments on the increase. The letter notes that the budget has increased by 6.6% whereas the provincial grants have increased by only 2.9%.

The second reason given is that the enrolment is declining in the elementary and secondary schools. Baker noted that a decrease in enrolment brings about a decrease in provincial grants, but unless there is a dramatic drop in enrolment there is no reduction in the teaching staff, nor is there any reduction in the costs of operating the schools.

The letter points out that the board had a surplus of $118,229 in 1983 which was used to reduce the 1984 municipal levy increase to less than 5% of the previous year.

However, in 1984 the board had a deficit of $109,559 that was caused by declining enrolment, lower supplementary taxes and a reduction in non-resident students.

Baker noted that the deficit was due to the reduction in revenues rather than an increase in expenditures over the budget. The board's expenditures were $23,000 less than predicted.

The board also suffered a revenue loss when Brown-dale ceased operations. Previously, the board had been receiving higher funding per student through Browndale than for regular students.

Last year the excess expenditure above the Ministry ceilings totalled $643,894 for both elementary schools and the secondary school.

The letter explains, "This expenditure is above those recognized by the Ministry of Education for grant purposes and is borne 100% by the local ratepayers. The expenditures above the grant ceilings are the result of provincial grants not keeping pace with or close to increased costs."

The ceilings established by the ministry increased by vative government. "People were concerned about the issue, but we just couldn't talk about it," Fearrey noted.

As Eakins watched his lead build at the Liberal headquarters, he accepted the congratulations of his many friends and supporters.

Asked how he felt about the results, he answered simply, "I am delighted". When he was reminded that he had spoken of the "winds of change" during the campaign, he smiled and said, "I felt that the time had come for the people to have their say and they have done just that."

He said that his personal victory showed that the voters were not concerned with the fact that he was not sitting on the government side. "They were tired of that issue," he said, adding "people were concerned about more important issues. I have shown that I can be on the opposition side and still serve my constituents."

Eakins said that he was not surprised at the strong province wide swing to the Liberals. "We have excellent candidates and strong leadership from David Peterson," he said, adding, "before the election it was crowd that had to take a walk to the Liberal candidate's headquarters to offer his congratulations. The comment brought back memories of Fearrey's statement during the PC nominating convention when he predicted that this time it would be the Liberal candidate who would take the "long walk".

With the cheers of his supporters ringing in his ears and congratulations from the faithful, Fearrey, accompanied by his wife Darlene, a number of campaign organizers and a string of reporters stepped out into the cool air of the May evening to walk down Kent Street to offer his best wishes to the winner.

Fearrey's arrival at the Liberal campaign headquarters was greeted with cheers from the Eakins supporters. Conceding the election to the incumbent, Fearrey said that Eakins was a worthy opponent. He said that if he would take the "long walk" to concede to any candidate, John Eakins was the man he would prefer to greet.

The two candidates shook hands, exchanged greetings and chatted briefly before Fearrey and his supporters returned to the Conservative headquarters.

How the taxes will be spent

A comparison of Board of Education proposed expenditures for 1985 with last year's actual expenditures shows that the overall increase is 6.65%. Breaking down the budget into separate categories it can be seen that the changes in expenditures vary; in one case increasing by nearly 15% and in other instances showing a decrease.

The regular day school courses account for the largest single portion of the budget. Total expenditures for 1985 are $5,339,470 a 9% increase over last year.

The second largest expenditure, transportation, shows a slight increase of 2% to $1,027,000.

Plant operation, the third highest category shows a drop of 7.7% to $762,040.

Business administration costs are expected to rise by 11% to $121,750 while general administration expenses are also expected to increase by 14.5% to $88,450.

School office administration costs show an increase of 3% to $155,575 while instructional administration costs are expected to decline by 12% to $124,000.

Special education programs and services are also expected to cost less. The budget calls for an expenditure of $108,412, a 5% decrease.

Other categories that show only slight increases in expenditures include driver education ($16,915), tuition fees to other boards ($393,400), debt charges ($221,700) and non operating expenses ($26,120).

The biggest change in expenditures is shown in the cost of operating the food services. The estimated expenditures have been slashed from $8,092 to $4,475.

Two categories that were not included in last year's expenditures add a further $118,000 to the budget. The Board has set aside $100,000 as a provision for the reserve fund and has earmarked $18,000 toward the proposed purchase of a portable classroom for the Archie Stouffer School in Minden.

Who pays how much

The following chart lists the financial requirements of each of the municipalities to the Haliburton County Board of Education.

Column two details the apportionment of each municipality based on provincial regulations. The requisition reflects the assessment of each municipality and considers other factors such as telephone and telegraph usage.

The third column lists each municipality's share of the 1984 deficit.

Column four lists the totals of columns two and three.

Column five details the actual requisitions paid by the municipalities in 1984 and is included for comparison purposes.

The final column outlines the provincial grants that are paid on behalf of each municipality.

12 Mile and Boshkung lakes surveyed for pollution

A survey of waste disposal systems carried out by the Ministry of Environment on Twelve Mile Lake and Little Boshkung Lake in the summer of 1984 revealed that fully two thirds of the systems were unsatisfactory.

Of the 330 sewage disposal systems that were evaluated, 149 were seriously substandard, 64 were unsatisfactory due to improper disposal of solid waste or washwater, and 5 were direct polluters.

The annual Cottage Pollution Control Survey has been carried out by employees of the Ministry of the Environment on selected lakes in central Ontario since 1970.

The staff members survey all the existing sewage disposal systems on the selected lakes then turn the results over to environmental technicians who evaluate the performance of the 4.3% for 1985.

The final point in the letter notes that the Provincial Equalized Assessment used for calculating Provincial Grant Assistance and apportionment of municipal levies also increased by 4%. This, coupled with declining enrolment in the board's schools, has the effect of the increase in ordinary expenditures being picked up by the local ratepayers of Haliburton County."

As Baker noted the increase in the assessment of the local municipalities has caused a corresponding decrease in provincial grants.

Education spending

There is no question that members of municipal councils throughout the county are not going to be too pleased when they receive the tax requisition from the Haliburton County Board of Education. The board's budget released last Tuesday evening, will see an increase of 19% or more for area municipalities and taxpayers.

The board of education has provided a number of explanations for the extensive increase, laying much of the blame on reduced support provided by the province. Certainly, if that is true, the municipal councillors should ensure that the provincial authorities are made aware of their own dissatisfaction with the situation. If the pins are being knocked out from under the board by the province, then those who must meet the shortfall, municipal taxpayers, should let the province know it will not be tolerated.

On the other hand, the members of the board of education must bear some of the responsibility for the increase. Municipal governments in the county are finding provincial assistance dwindling and demands for services increasing all the time, but one would have to search far to find a municipal tax increase anywhere near the percentage suggested by the board of education. The municipalities are cutting back in some areas and making do with less to meet the shortfall, perhaps the same prescription should be vigorously applied to education spending.

Research funds approved

-by Bill Scott, MP-

On April 16, the Minister of Health and Welfare announced the government's decision to provide additional funding to the Medical Research Council (MRC) for 1985 - 86.

In June 1983, the federal government approved, in principle, a five year plan submitted by the Council which included both a strategy for a renewed federal commitment to health research and measures for implementation. The government then provided funds for the first two years of the plan, $20.0 million in 1983 - 84 and $30.0 million in 1984 - 85, but made no provision for the subsequent three years.

As stated above, on April 16, at the request of the Minister of Health and Welfare, the Cabinet confirmed its support of the MRC five year plan and agreed to provide an additional $30.9 million to the Council for 1985 - 86, this will allow the Council to maintain its activity level of the previous fiscal year and to pursue the implementation of the plan.

With these additional funds the Council will be able to support some 400 to 425 new research projects which involve employment of some 600 people in Canadian universities and affiliated teaching hospitals and research institutions. The Council will also be able to provide about 350 additional awards for training and support of research personnel in the health sciences research field.

Approval of an increase to MRC's budget at this time despite the Cabinet's avowed determination to reduce the federal deficit confirms the priority of this government and its intention to provide adequate financial support to health research in Canada.

Editor:

I hope that the local school board took more than one lengthy evening to consider the 1985 budget. An increase of 19.4% in local taxation, in my view, is unconscionable in light of a very slow economy, high unemployment and many people on fixed incomes. I hope the promised detailed analysis will show more light on salary increases, pupil - teacher ratios, the additional cost of special education over provincial grants, etc.

Also, may we have an explanation as to why the 1984 general administration costs were 42.3% higher than in 1983.

Mr. Editor, please ask the school board to explain why Haliburton County has the highest per pupil costs of all boards in the province. The figures are printed and available from the Ministry of Education. What is being done to reduce costs in line with declining enrolments? Are we closing classrooms or are we decreasing the pupil - teacher ratio?

Perhaps our local education costs have reached such a high level that we need a system review by outsiders.

Local hydro employees join provincial strike

Picket signs appeared at the entrances to the Ontario Hydro office on Highway 35 early Monday morning as members of the Canadian Union of Public Employees, local 1000, joined in strike action with 15,000 Hydro employees across the province.

The strike began officially on Saturday at midnight after union members voted to reject the latest contract offer and contract talks broke down. In the province wide vote, 72% of the employees voted against the management offer while 71% of the C.U.P.E. local voted not to accept the latest contract.

A spokesman for the striking employees, union steward Dan Read, said that "wages are not the main issue in this strike. The big issue is job security."

He explained that union members are concerned over the hiring of private contractors by Ontario Hydro. He said that while the employees are willing to accept some contracting-out, there are concerns that Ontario Hydro will be increasing the amount of work carried out by private contractors.

Read added, "We want guarantees that people are not going to lose jobs".

Cal Wilson, District Manager of Hydro, says that the Hydro offices will remain open during the strike.

Nine management employees have been recruited from outside the Minden district to assist the six local management employees. Since they will be required to carry out the work of sixty employees, cutbacks in service can be expected.

"We will try to handle routine repairs but if there is a major storm, repairs will be slow," he said. "In the case of new service hook-ups we will have to deal with them on an as-needed basis," he said.

Wilson added that the employees will not be responding immediately to service calls at night unless there is an emergency. To date there has been no breakthrough in the negotiations between union representatives and Ontario Hydro and there are indications that the strike could be lengthy.

The last time Hydro employees went on strike was in 1972. The strike lasted nearly four months.

Ontario Hydro employees from the Minden office join fellow employees across the province on the picket line following a breakdown in negotiations in Toronto. The workers are upset with what they claim, is the extensive use of contract labour on an increasing number of projects. In spite of inclement weather on the first day of the strike, the strikers appeared buoyant and confident that their action will result in a settlement with the provincially owned utility.

Candidates assess campaign

With the hectic pace of the campaign behind them, the candidates took a brief rest, then it was business as usual for the winner and the losers. On Monday evening, The Times contacted John Eakins at his constituency office in Lindsay.

Eakins was back at his desk "catching up with all the correspondence." He said that he was very pleased with his re-election, but bushed after keeping up a gruelling pace during the campaign.

He said that the high voter turnout indicated, "There was a lot of interest shown in the election in this riding and throughout the province. There were some good things happening in other ridings. There were some excellent candidates for our party, super people, who brought a lot of good experience into the party," he said.

"Another reason why we did so well, is because the P.C. government has gone on for 42 years and I think that the time of long-term government is over."

Eakins said that he was not surprised at the strong showing of the Liberals, commenting, "There was a very strong reaction everywhere to the party."

While many candidates have stated publicly since the election that the issue of extended funding to separate schools was far more important than they realized, Eakins doesn't believe that the issue was that important in his riding noting that, "Only the occasional person mentioned it."

John Eakins, Liberal incumbent in the riding of Victoria-Haliburton, shares a moment with his daughter Karen, Thursday evening as they watch election results being posted on the tally board at their campaign headquarters in Lindsay.

He added that because the Conservatives were in power in Ottawa during this past election and not the Liberals under Pierre Trudeau, his Conservative opponents "Couldn't blame Pierre Trudeau for the state of the economy or anything else. They had to stand on their own."

In spite of the precarious hold the Conservatives have, Eakins does not foresee an election in the near future. "I don't think that the people want an election and it is not necessary. We have had minority governments before. In fact, I have served five and a half years in a minority government during two terms. Government is based on give and take and unless an important principle comes up that we cannot agree on, the government will continue. A minority government keeps everyone responsible. The government party cannot take the opposition for granted and the opposition parties also have to act in a responsible manner."

As for the campaign in Victoria-Haliburton, Eakins said that "It was tough in areas where I expected a fight, but otherwise we did alright. This has been my sixth election. I never take anything for granted. I know that I have to fight hard each time."

systems.

The systems found to be malfunctioning are checked by an Abatement Officer who negotiates an agreement with the owner for corrective work. The corrected system is then inspected to ensure compliance with the agreement and pertinent regulations.

Of the 249 systems inspected on Twelve Mile

Lake in 1984, 2 systems were found to be satisfactory. This means the systems meet current standards of good design construction and location, are properly maintained, are capable of handling sewage flows and are not causing a pollution problem.

70 systems, or 28% of the total number of systems on the lake were classified as having satisfactory performance, in that the systems were slightly deficient in design, setback or construction but did not constitute a pollution problem.

46% or 114 systems were considered seriously substandard because they did not meet current standards of design, construction or location, were in a state of neglect or had a limited life.

The systems were not causing a pollution problem at the time of the survey but technicians foresaw a problem in treating sewage in the near future.

22 systems or 9% of the total were evaluated as being a "public health nuisance" because of the discharge of wash water to the surface of the ground through waste pipes or leach pits.

The report notes that phosphates and other nutrients from wash water encourage weed growth and affect the aesthetic quality of the lake.

20 systems or 8% of the total were described as being a public health nuisance because the systems cause sewage from toilets to be exposed on the surface of the ground.

Also included in this classification is solid waste or garbage which can cause a nuisance: for example domestic garbage containing food waste.

Five systems were considered to be direct polluters permitting sewage or leachate to contaminate the ground or surface water. 16 systems were labelled unclassified and will require further inspection.

As of December 31, 1984, 32 faulty systems had been corrected and 30 owners had signed agreements to complete corrections in 1985. The Ministry is currently attempting to obtain commitments from the owners of the remaining deficient systems.

Of the 81 private sewage disposal systems inspected on Little Boshkung Lake in 1984, one system was labelled ed satisfactory, 18 systems or 22% showed satisfactory performance, 22 systems or 27% of the total were considered a nuisance because of the discharge of wash water or solid waste, none of the systems were considered to be direct polluters and 6 systems were unclassified at the end of the survey.

As of December 31, 1984, 6 faulty systems had been corrected and 13 owners had signed agreements to complete corrections in 1985.

The remainder of the owners have been notified of the problems and are being asked to sign agreements to correct the systems. In the event that owners of faulty systems do not upgrade the systems to the satisfaction of the Ministry of the Environment, legal action may be taken.

highways lead directly to Lindsay where we can do any type of business or obtain any service you may require.

Now let's look at the other side of the coin. For provincial purposes we are in Hastings-Peterborough riding. I understand the nomination meetings to select our candidates are held in Madoc. Madoc is twice the distance as it is to Lindsay with no direct highway. We do not do any business in that direction. Geographically we are separated by vast areas of unsettled bush land. As we go through this period of provincial elections, I observe the disadvantages of being attached to Hastings-Peterborough rather than Victoria-Haliburton.

We are not aware of the dates of the nomination meetings, therefore we do not have an opportunity to participate in choosing our candidates. If a survey was taken, nine eligible voters out of ten questioned could not tell you that names that will appear on the ballot. I know the answer we receive - the ridings are made up by the number of voters, not by area. Our total number is so small, less than 400. I fail to think it outweighs the inconvenience it creates for our people. When the next survey is taken, I am sure a closer observance would be much appreciated.

Now that I have told the story, I hope someone will pick up the torch and carry it through to a successful end. Peter Pearson, Kinmount.

Foster parents wanted: long hours, hard work, great rewards.

Being a foster parent is a tough job. It's full-time. Twenty-four hours a day. Often frustrating, and always demanding of your patience, energy and love.

Yet despite its demands, or maybe because of them, thousands of people take foster children into their homes each year.

Some are children, some are teenagers. Some have special physical or emotional needs. But all have one thing in common. They need a sense of place and security to help them through a difficult period in their lives, and to prepare them for reuniting with their families.

There's a very basic joy in sharing with a child or young person some of the richness that life has given you.

As part of a team of social workers and other professionals, you'll be helping foster children and their parents when they need help most. And helping yourself at the same time, to mature and grow as an individual.

If you'd like to learn more about becoming a foster parent, contact your local Children's Aid Society or Family and Children's Services.

It's not an easy task. Few jobs demand more of a person. But fewer still give more in return.

Looking back at the campaign

tossed his hat into the ring in the provincial race and finished a strong second to the incumbent.

After the election we asked Fearrey to assess his performance. He answered, "There are several things to consider when you are running provincially. You are running with your leader; you are running with your party and you are running yourself as a candidate."

"There has been a substantial increase in the vote across the riding. If you look at the drop in percentage of the party in popularity, coupled with the increased vote, I think we probably did as well as most candidates across the province in terms of holding our own against a fairly strong incumbent and a definite swing to the Liberal party." "If we hadn't worked hard and been aggressive during the campaign, things could have been almost devastating," he said.

While Fearrey won a lot of support throughout much of Haliburton County, he was disappointed in his showing in Minden. "I wonder if that isn't an overspill of my activities at County Council. People, in fairness should realize that if I am the reeve of Minden or Dysart, I have a job to do for that municipality."

One issue that hurt his chances and the Conservative party, was the proposal to extend funding to separate schools in the province. Fearrey described it as "The non-issue that became the issue." He noted that "Although all the parties agree with extended funding, it still fell back on the party in power. It was the Conservative party that implemented it." He added, "I felt here was a definite turnaround in voter thinking in the last five days. You could sense on the streets that it had become the main issue."

When asked if he will run again if an election is called shortly, Fearrey answered, "We would have to assess the major issue of separate school funding. If that isn't resolved, I wouldn't think that I would look at being a candidate again."

Small things bright and beautiful

It all began about two years ago, when Maurice and Dorothy Boyd of Lutterworth Township read a full page ad in a Florida newspaper advertising "doll house wallpaper."

They thought that it was rather unusual that anyone would pay for a full page to advertise such a specialty item, so out of curiosity, they visited the sponsor's store.

The store featured miniature dolls, furniture and dollhouses and books on constructing miniatures. "I bought one of the books on building houses and after reading it, I was hooked," Maurice explained.

Since the visit to the store, Maurice and Dorothy have been building and collecting miniatures, and in doing so, have joined the many thousands of collectors across North America. Maurice has just completed a Georgian style mansion complete with wooden columns, clapboard siding and cedar shingles that is now on display at Sandalwood Gifts in Minden.

He has also built a Yorktown mansion and a replica of a Victorian home that was popular in the late 19th century.

The three buildings have been built to the standard miniature scale of one inch to the foot.

Windows, siding, doors

Maurice constructs the interior and exterior walls and roof out of 3/8 inch plywood. He finished the exterior of the house using materials he has made himself or purchased. This includes the siding, windows, doors and roofing materials.

"I work from photographs and some plans and try to copy the original buildings as closely as possible," he explained. Maurice does not finish the interior of the miniature mansions, preferring to leave that to whoever buys the house.

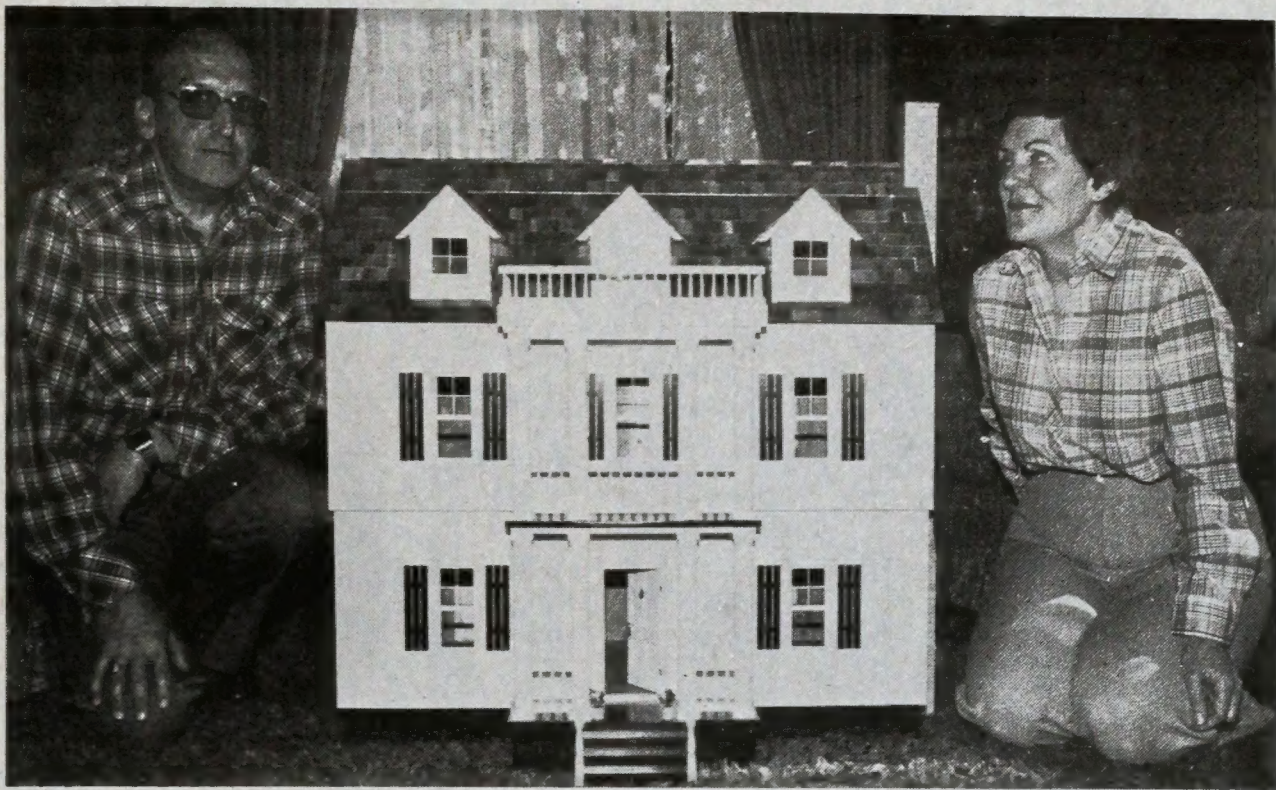

"These homes are basically custom made. The customer decides how much needs to be done. However, I do paint the interior ceilings because they are very difficult to do afterward." "I also have to modify the plans, keeping in mind that someone else will finish the interior," he said.

To facilitate the interior work, the front of the house and half of the roof pivot outward on piano hinges and the plexiglass windows are removable. As well, some interior walls and staircases can be temporarily removed.

Then the proud owner of the miniature mansion can complete the finishing touches, including painting, wiring, carpeting and of course, wall papering.

Maurice emphasised that the scale model buildings are not children's playhouses, but instead, because of their prices and craftsmanship, are meant for serious collectors who use the houses to display miniature furniture, fireplaces, paintings, plants, in fact everything that any self-respecting owner of a mansion would have in his home.

Maurice began building the homes as a hobby but found buyers for each of the three homes before he finished them and although he has no intention of going into full time business, he will be building more.

Beside building the mansions, Maurice handcrafts furniture out of bass wood and "whatever the project, Dorothy does the idea work. She gives me a lot of helpful advice in finding answers to some of the problems that come up. After all, two heads are better than one," he said.

The next building they want to create will be a replica of a turn of the century farmhouse with board and batten siding and a cedar shake roof. Maurice plans on building that one as authentic as possible. Instead of using plywood to frame the building, Maurice will be using scaled down frame members to complete the basic structure.

"I am getting more and more tools and equipment (such as miniature lathe) so that I can build everything from scratch and not have to buy any finished materials. This way, I will be able to make it more accurate and more individual. For instance, I will be able to make each of the columns on the front of the building different from the others," he said.

The Boyds may decide to keep the proposed farmhouse for themselves to display their growing collection of miniatures, for, as Maurice noted, "We would like to be able to have one, sooner or later."

Board hires curriculum co-ordinator

The Haliburton County Board of Education will be hiring a Curriculum Co-ordinator to review, evaluate and co-ordinate the curriculum of both the elementary and secondary school systems in the county, beginning in September 1985.

The board, in approving the hiring of the co-ordinator, was acting on one of the recommendations of the Analysis and Response Committee that has been carrying out the Implementation Phase of the Cooperative Evaluation and Development of School Systems (C.E.D.D.S.) study.

The study, a joint project of the board and the Ministry of Education, began in the spring of 1983.

In the initial phase of the project, an advisory committee was set up to determine which areas would be evaluated. The proposed areas of study decided on were: English from Kindergarten to Grade 13, Intermediate Mathematics, the role of the director of education, and the role of teachers and principals.

In the fall of 1983, four sub-committees were formed made up of representatives from the public, trustees, teachers and principals to conduct an Internal Evaluation.

Their reports were compiled and submitted to the board in January 1984 then forwarded to an External Evaluation Team made up of educators from outside the county.

The findings of the two teams were submitted to the Board in April, 1984 and the Implementation Phase began.

The Analysis and Response Committee recommends that the new co-ordinator be hired from within the system, if possible, for a 3 year period beginning in September 1984.

The committee recommended that an advisory committee made up of three trustees, representatives of the three teachers federations, the Chairman of the Board and the Director of Education, be appointed to select applicants for consideration by the board.

After being hired by the board the successful applicant will be responsible for co-ordinating curriculum from Kindergarten to Grade 13 in cooperation with the teachers and principals in each school with special emphasis on English and mathematics.

The co-ordinator will have the authority to see that curriculum changes are implemented.

Other duties of the co-ordinator include arranging professional development activities for teachers from different schools and grades; arranging local conferences to assure sequencing of teaching methods; organizing a committee to evaluate resources as they relate to curriculum; developing ways of enhancing teaching strategies; reporting to the board as often as is deemed necessary by the board on progress being made.

In addition to the recommendation that the position of curriculum coordinator be created, the Analysis and Response Committee recommended that renewed emphasis be placed on communication between the Director of Education and the public and educators within the system.

To accomplish this the committee suggested that the director should attend at least one staff meeting per year in each school, should attend functions in each school as much as possible, should prepare newsletters and newspaper articles and should act as co-ordinator with the principals to see that each school prepares a handbook of information and school rules for parents of students.

Another recommendation based on the CEDDS study is that standing committees be formed to determine and address the common concerns of the teachers of mathematics and English and other subjects.

The fourth recommendation is that the board should work with the Teacher's Federations to have programs presented on professional development days dealing with approaches to discipline, changes in teaching duties, program strategies for dealing with special needs students, respect toward students, and the need for the public to be more aware of what happens within schools.

Acting on the advice of the External Evaluation team that recommended that the resource centre area should be enlarged, the committee advised the board to appoint a committee to evaluate the facilities in the secondary school library.

All the recommendations made by the Analysis and Response Committee were accepted by the board at the regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, May 1.

Top athletes compete at H.H.S.S.

Students at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School took a break from classes on Tuesday, April 30, to attend or take part in the annual Intramural Track and Field Day. A number of school records were broken during the athletic event which took place under ideal weather conditions.

This Thursday, May 9, the top athletes in the school will be taking part in the Kawartha West Track and Field meet in Fenelon Falls. The students are expected to do well at the meet. Haliburton High has been the overall winner for the past twelve years.

The following Thursday the top three competitors in each event will participate in the Kawartha Track and Field Championships at Trent University in Peterborough.

In the past, students from Haliburton County have placed first overall in their division in five competitions and placed third overall last year against eighteen other schools.

Last year, nine of the athletes from Haliburton went on to compete in the Central Ontario Competition based on their performances at the meet in Peterborough and there is every indication that Haliburton will be represented again this year.

The following are the results from last week's meet at the high school. The students are listed in the order of their placing with the time or distance given for each first place finisher.

Soccer begins

The Dixie Lee soccer team will begin their third season in the Muskoka District Soccer Association playing the Gravenhurst Spartans in Gravenhurst this Sunday at 2:00 p.m.

The Spartans were the strongest team in the league and Dixie Lee lost 3 - 1 to them last year in their opening game.

Dixie Lee has not yet had a full practice this season. The team will practise on Thursday at 7:00 p.m. in Haliburton. Some of the speedy high school players will be missing, however, because of a track and field competition that same day in Fenelon Falls.

Some of the regular Dixie Lee players are now back from university and college and some new players are available.

The strength of the Dixie Lee team is therefore unusually hard to gauge this year. The following is the team's schedule for the coming season:

The first team mentioned is the home team. All games begin at 2 p.m.:

May 12: Gravenhurst vs. Haliburton.

May 19: Juniors vs. Haliburton.

May 26: Haliburton vs. Centennials.

June 2: Haliburton vs. Huntsville.

June 9: Parry Sound vs. Haliburton.

June 16: Haliburton vs. Orillia C.

June 23: Sun. at Haliburton.

July 7: Haliburton vs. Gravenhurst.

Long jump take-off.

Lake Association considers promotional activities

In order to help raise funds for their own projects and to support other activities in the county, the Lake Kashagawigamog Tourist Association has embarked on a lottery. Details of the draw were announced at the group's annual meeting held Sunday evening at Deer Lodge.

According to the association's president, Guy Ramsay of Halimar Lodge, proceeds from the draw will be used to support the efforts of groups such as the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association, the Nordic Trail Association and the Guild of Fine Arts, among others. He reported that the prize will be a Radio Shack 1000 Satellite System. An early bird draw will be held for a video recorder and play-back unit. The final draw will take place September 5. Tickets, which are available from association members, are selling for $5.

Reviewing the association's activities for the year Ramsay noted that the group was instrumental in the production of brochures and a poster promoting the Lake Kashagawigamog area. He noted that the income from the sale of the poster was used in additional promotion of the area.

The group has become an associate member of the county's Nordic Trail Association and attended a ski show in Toronto last year to promote the area's facilities.

Ramsay pointed out that the group has reduced its sponsorship of hockey tournaments in the past year, partly because of a reduction in interest from participating teams. He suggested that the group consider sponsoring a men's tournament in the coming season and reassess whether it wishes to remain involved in the minor hockey activities.

Members of the organization will be involved in a clean-up this Saturday on the roads encircling the lake. Resort owners and others living in the area were encouraged to get involved in this spring clean-up.

The association was informed of annual canoe race between Ingoldsby and Haliburton Village sponsored by the Haliburton Lions Club. According to the spokesman, Gord Bennett, the event drew limited participation last year, the first time it had been held. He suggested it could become a major attraction and asked the resort owners to support the effort by encouraging guests or staff members to take part. He said the resorts would be informed of the race date in time to ensure participation this year.

Another idea for an activity came from John Teljeur of Deer Lodge. He suggested that the lake's perimeter road system provided an ideal course for a bicycle race. Mr. Teljeur said he felt the event could become an annual attraction which would draw visitors and participants to the area. The association executive Lodge, Amy Hogg of Wentworth Marina, Harvey Williams of Lakeview will consider the idea.

Before the evening ended, the members selected their board of directors for the coming year. Chosen by acclamation were the following: Guy Ramsay, Chris Milner of Wig-A-Mog Inn, Marilyn Teljeur of Deer

Motel, Joan Stinson of Willow Beach Cottages, Wayne Ellison of the Driftwood Restaurant, Keith Stephenson of Haliburton

Highlands Golf Course, Gord Bennett of Bennett Motors, Jean Casey of Birch Point Lodge and Craig Johnson of Bonnie View Inn.

Forestry demonstrations planned for Saturday

The Minden District Office of the Ministry of Natural Resources is presenting a demonstration of logging and sawmill operation for the public at the Victoria County Forest near Burnt River on Saturday, May 11.

These demonstrations are part of this year's field day to observe National Forest Week, an event held annually in early May to help focus attention on the importance of managing and using Canada's forests wisely for present and future needs.

Other activities at the Forest will include instructions in chainsaw safety, a demonstration of tree marking for a selective harvest, operation of a forest fire fighting crew, a guided tour of a 56-year-old red pine plantation and a natural hardwood stand.

The Victoria County Forest is a 3794-hectare (9375 acre) tract of forest land owned by the County of Victoria and managed by the Ministry of Natural Resources for forestry purposes. The Ministry of Natural Resources is holding similar field day events in each of its 47 districts throughout the province.

The events will take place from 10:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. Picnic tables will be available for those who wish to bring a lunch and there will be free coffee and donuts (while supplies last). The location will be in Somerville Township approximately 3.5 kilometres north of the village of Burnt River - follow the signs which will be placed to direct you. Signs will also be posted to direct people coming via Norland or Kilmount.

For more information contact the Ministry of Natural Resources at Minden, telephone 286-1521.

With the assistance of his mother, Matthew Heffer, plants a pine tree on property north of Minden Saturday morning. Matthew, a member of Minden Beavers, was one of nearly fifty members of the local scouting movement who took part in the annual Trees for Canada day. This event is a Canada-wide celebration which assists reforestation of the country and helps raise funds for scouting. After planting some 200 young pine seedlings, the youngsters, accompanied by their parents and leaders, enjoyed a luncheon of hot dogs and juice provided by Minden Rotary Club.

Sights and Sounds '85

Lisa Carr performs on the balance beam. Below, Ryan Ladurantaye accepts a scholarship to the Haliburton School of Fine Arts from Margot Ziorjen representing the Agnes Jamieson Gallery.

For many people who are associated with the Agnes Jamieson Art Gallery, the annual exhibition of art by students at Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden, is the highlight of the season.

The large collection of paintings, drawings and models reflect the unique perspective of the world shared by many of the younger students. As well, there are some excellent works of art by some very talented students.

The opening of the exhibit on Thursday was well attended by parents and families of the young artists. The large gathering was treated to a performance by the Grade 7 band and an exhibition of gymnastic skills in the courtyard beside the gallery.

The show, which is entitled, "Sights and Sounds '85" continues until May 16.

April was a very variable month. Winter held on until April 14. Snow on ground had disappeared by April 20. Summer started April 21 when temperatures finally got up to normal and above normal at 29 degrees by April 22. The last ten days of April were very pleasant. Precipitation was a bit above normal. The only thing that saved us from flooding is lack of rain during latter half of April, but it could still happen with normal or above normal rain in May.

Good year for syrup

A survey of maple syrup producers in Haliburton County indicates that most had a better than normal maple syrup production. The sugar content of the sap was also very good.

The unusual aspect of the season was in its length.

Reports to the Ontario Maple Syrup Producers Association in Lindsay on May 1, showed most producers had above average crop and some produced the largest crop they ever had.

Grading of all maple syrup was made compulsory for the first time this year. Food inspectors report grading was well received. Inspectors also noticed a great improvement in the quality of syrup offered for sale.

Winners of the I.G.A. trophy being presented by Peter Dollo, centre, were from the left, Herb Roodenburg, Wendy Davis, Nancy Dennys and Corey Walker. The rink placed first in the Friday Mixed Playoffs and received the award at the annual curling banquet held Saturday evening in the Curling Club in Minden.

Curling season ends with banquet

The 1984-1985 curling season came to a close on Saturday evening with a supper, dance and awards presentation at the Minden Curling Club. The annual affair was presided over by the newly elected Executive who were chosen at the general meeting in April.

president Bill Dillon, secretary Sally Bonner and treasurer Maggie Harrison.

Members of the board of directors are: Sharon Kernohan, Jean Scott, Howard Scott, J.O. Jackson, Paul Prentice, Mike Maybee, Anita Beaver and Stan Hill.

Past president Bill Dillon presented the trophies to the top teams in each category and congratulated the club members for their successful season. Dillon was, in turn, honoured for his service to the club over the past two years as president.

The awards ceremony concluded with a special presentation by Keith Clements of the Ontario Curling Association, to the foursome of Sharon

senior league

by Bert Harrison

Dear readers. A real busy week here at Hyland Crest. Nearly everyone had relatives or special guests, visitors coming and going nearly all the time and on this lovely Monday morning the sun does surely shine.

My son Roger came to visit me and for lunch then with me to dine.

In the chapel service Sunday night, everything seemed to go just fine. In the 21st chapter of John, Rev.

Burgess spoke very interestingly of Jesus lighting a fire on the shore. Cooking fish for the disciples who had fished all night and caught nothing. Jesus said, "Come and dine".

Monday morning no fun and fitness for the residents today. Voting in the auditorium for those who would not be able to vote on election day.

While our cleaners work day after day to keep this place clean inside, our maintenance men work to keep it nice outside.

We have Edna Cowan back after a week's holiday. Her roommate Lily Hogg misses Edna while she's away.

We had an auxiliary meeting this 29th April day. They are always doing something to help out here, by the way. They have bought six lovely card tables and a dozen lawn chairs. Whatever is needed here, they're always there.

Tuesday morning this last April day, Pastor Wood and Mrs. Wood of Allsaw Pentecostal Light House came and conducted the service in the chapel. While Pastor Wood was giving a very interesting passage to us, Mrs. Wood led the singing and the music she did play. Thank you for coming we would like to say.

Tuesday afternoon Linda showed us three interesting movies. Not too many came to see "Colour Lively", "Piper's All" and "The Pioneer Story".

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hodgson came to call which was surely grand, to see some good old friends again and the shaking of the hand.

Tuesday night Everett Fairrey and daughter Terri-Lynn came to play and sing for us which was very fine, please come back to us again.

Tuesday noon Mrs. Stutt's daughter Ruth came to her to dine. She is holding sway at school this time at Minden.

No fun and fitness for this voting day. Many anxious people no doubt as to how the results turned out.

The Minden U.C.W. ladies brought and served a delicious lunch on this Thursday. We would like to have played some tunes to thank them in some small way, but we had a resident's council meeting to attend.

While Doris is away on a week's holiday, Linda is keeping activities smooth while her sister is away.

Olive Hamilton is away. We hope she is having a nice holiday.

We would like to thank the bingo callers who came Thursday night to call the bingo games. Larry Amyotte and Brian Hamilton. The players said, "The game was great". Some players won 5, Millie Wood won 8.

Friday afternoon Grace Coburn came to lead us in a sing-a-long. Norma Barron the music to play. Then Linda led us in a very interesting discussion to end a perfect day.

A word about the Haliburton Home Support Programme. They are doing a great work. Help them all you can.

Perce Cowling was high man while high lady went to Mary Stevenson (showing you up again Alex!) Other card games winners were Eleanor Bunker, Lou Pennick, George Alsop and Perce Cowling. The surprise of the evening was the door prize winner - yes - you guessed it - lucky Alex Stevenson showed that even lady luck can have an off night! Congratulations to all of you, sounds like you have a lot of fun at Club 35.

The North Road Ladies Group, begun many years ago, by Mrs. Amos Brubacher, has concluded another successful season. Since fall, their quilting efforts have enabled the ladies to give donations to Cancer, CatScan, Mission work, the Gideons and the Mennonite Centre Committee as well as several baskets of Christmas cheer etc. Meetings are held once a month with an average attendance of eight. This week, samples of their handiwork are on display in the window of Country Fabrics & Crafts. Call if the group can help you with your quilting needs. All money earned goes to charity. The ladies have planned to have lunch and a day's shopping together later this month.

April 30 was another monthly Rotary bingo. $100 Nevada ticket winners were Elva Paisley, Bob Robinson and Helen Lee. It certainly was Bob's night as he won several times, including the final game card for $53. Next Rotary bingo at the Minden arena will be held May 28.

The coming of Spring

Now everything is looking nice,
The streams at last are free of ice
The robins sing their cheerful song
The frogs join in and sing along
We saw a black squirrel on our way
I guess that they are here to stay
I hear they den up through the cold
But now they're out and looking bold
We hear the loon's queer call once more
We've heard it many times before.
The trees and fields are turning green,
It is a very pretty scene.
So by these many changes
We know that Spring is here
And many people think that It's the nicest time of year.

Florence Robinson

A Thought for All of Us

Depression is a word that's hard to explain
For none of us is quite the same -
There's something in our chemistry
That makes the difference 'tween you and me.
The skies may be blue
And the night not cold,
But to some
It just means getting old.
And not the person we used to be
But death is just a legacy
To be waited for.
"Come on," one says
"Be bright and cheery"
While the person inside us
Feels cold and dreary -
We wanted to be wanted in a special way
Not just an antique tucked away.
There was a time
When the sky was blue
And our youngish lives
Almost brand new,
The part that fate sometime would play
Seemed so remote
And far away.
Depression can be conquered
At a special price,
In some ways it is almost nice,
Not to worry
What lay before
But just look back
On days of yore -
As long as a friend
Both tried and true
Is there to say
"I do love you."

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Some have hidden words or sayings, some do not. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Children's work featured at gallery

Guild news

The Rails' End Gallery is now presenting its annual Students' Show. On visiting the Gallery you will see over 50 pieces of children's work including winning art work by Haliburton County students, life size body shields by Grade 4 craftsmen, and masks by artist, Rae Anderson. Rae has been working in the County schools for the past two weeks under the Creative Artist In The Schools Program.

We would like to thank the Ontario Arts Council and the Haliburton County Board of Education for their financial support in allowing this creative program to go ahead in our County. This is the third year the Guild has initiated this program and been supported by the O.A.C. and our Board of Education.

Again this year we're able to award Student Scholarships to the Haliburton School of Fine Arts to 35 students thanks to the donations of local businesses, service groups and individuals. These children receive a one week free art or craft program at the School of Fine Arts.

We would like to express our thanks to the following organizations and people for their generous donations to make this program possible: Haliburton Trout Farms, Harvest Restaurant, Lakeview Motel, Emmerston Lumber Limited, The Times, Curry Motors Ltd., Cordell Interiors Inc., I.G.A. Dollo Bros. Food Market Ltd., Rotary Club of Minden, L. VanLieshout Real Estate Ltd., Blair Sand & Gravel Limited, Minden Drug Store, Ontario Men's Teachers Federation, Halbright Markets (IGA), Raymond Selbie, Good Management Enterprises Ltd., Black's Hardware, Haliburton Lumber & Enterprises Ltd., Rotary Club of Haliburton, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, Haliburton, Haliburton Family Medical Centre, Northernways Transit Limited, Giles Connell, Haliburton Women's Teachers Association and Paulette's Antiques and Gifts.

Special thanks once again to the Women's Teachers Association for their large donation.

During May, we will be sponsoring a children's program each Saturday. Watch the "Coming Events" column for times and dates of the events.

In the Waiting Room Gallery we have a wonderful collection of "limited edition prints" by wildlife artist, Marc Barrie.

We welcome everyone to visit the Gallery, browse through our Boutique, and see our most recent exhibitions.

Students hear about service

by Donna Bailey

As part of our public education program, volunteers or office staff visit the Grade 6 classes of schools located in Haliburton County to inform them of the Haliburton County Home Support Services and our Drop-In Centre. Edna Sedgwick volunteered her time to go to Archie Stouffer Public School where she talked to two classes during education week as part of their V.I.P. Program.

I visited the Grade 5 and 6 class at Cardiff Public School last week. Then the same week Katherine McMahon, our Drop-In Centre Activities Program Receptionist and myself talked to three classes at J. Douglas Hodgson Elementary School. All of us thoroughly enjoyed our time with the students and found them very interested in our services.

New volunteers for our Friendly Visiting Program to Seniors and Disabled Persons were added to our list as students volunteered their time to do this important service. Thank you. On behalf of all of us, "Thank You" to the Haliburton County Board of Education, the Principals, Teachers and Students for allowing us to visit you.

If you are a Senior or Disabled Person or if you know of someone who is in need of any of our services, please contact our office at 457-2941. We are open five days a week Monday to Friday.

Our Spring Newsletter is now ready for pickup. They are for anyone and are free of charge. Have a nice day!
